

World War II - PoW Escape Routes in Italy 1943/44

It is now over sixty years since the last Allied escaper or evader was hidden and cared for by the 'contadini' of the Italian countryside. Many of these fugitives were taken through enemy occupied territory, and eventually reached Great Britain and freedom. Many more were hidden in the country villages to await the advancing troops. Sir Winston Churchill wrote in his History of the Second World War, "some 10,000 POWs in German occupied Italy were fed, hidden, and guided by the Italian people, often the poorest from the Italian countryside. Many were shot for this great spontaneous gesture of humanity".

At the end of the war the 'helpers' throughout Europe were able to relax, and the final cost of their actions were becoming known. The cost was appalling. Across all the former occupied territories it is thought that four helpers died for every escaper or evader who reached freedom. They died under the worst possible conditions. Execution, torture, or simply from starvation and disease in the subhuman concentration camps. In Italy their homes were burnt to the ground and their livestock killed. In Pietraseri, a town in the Sulmona valley, the town's people were murdered and only one child survived. Their crime was assisting escapers. The German army was particularly harsh on the Italian people after the 1943 Armistice.

Some of the Allied POWs in Italy had been moved from France in 1942, but the majority had been captured in the North African campaign, in Libya or Egypt. A very small number escaped prior to the armistice of 8th September 1943. When the armistice was announced, it was expected that a German withdrawal from Italy would take place, and orders had gone out to all POWs to stay put and await the Allies' arrival. The reverse happened. German troops poured into Italy, taking over the POW camps together with most of the country. In the north the camps mostly contained Australians, New Zealanders and South Africans, and many escaped in the confusion and headed for Switzerland. Further south, thousands of escapers made their escape towards the Allied lines to the south. At the officers' camp at Fontellato, 600 men marched out of the main gate, aided by their Italian guards, just one hour before the Germans arrived.

With little escape and evasion knowledge, no kit or equipment, each escaper organised his own 'orders for the day', mapped out his route as best he could, and headed out. Reluctant to make contact with local people at first, they soon learnt that the prosperous looking farms were generally fascist, while the smaller, older farms were home to the ordinary people of the Italian countryside, the 'contadini'. Once contact had been made, these people hid, clothed and fed the escapers, sharing what limited food they had. Under a German proclamation, the same rule applied to the Italians as the rest of occupied Europe. For anyone caught assisting escaping or evading allied troops, the men would be shot, and the women sent to concentration camps. They forgot to add that they would be harshly interrogated and tortured first, their homes burnt to the ground and their livestock killed. The escaper could expect to return to a POW camp.

By Christmas Day 1943, the Allied front line had settled on the Sangro River, and Allied escapers from the north tended to head towards the less populated but mountainous east coast region. Escapers were already heading south from the camps at Servigliano, and from three camps in the Tenna valley near Pescara. Many were given shelter by charcoal burners in the woods, others who were taken ill were nursed in the mountain villages. Many escapers joined up with the partisans, and others worked the land as payment to their helpers.

With the exception of the Rome Network, no organised assistance was given to escapers in Italy. The Rome network was run by an Irish Priest in the Vatican who found safe-houses, distributed food and offered money. In PG 78 at Sulmona (which is still in location today), many men had escaped and were heading south along the Sulmona valley. Other prisoners were rounded up and put on trains for camps in Germany. But this was not the end of escaping - many POWs jumped from trains, and others escaped through the floors of cattle trucks. Once free, they also went south. Many headed for the villages in the Sulmona triangle of Anversa to the west, Campo di Giovi to the east, with Castèl Di Sangro as the southern point. When a village became occupied, escapers were moved to the mountains and food was taken to them by the villagers. Others were taken through deep snow to the Allied lines. Most escapers headed for Castèl Di Sangro where the River Sangro was fordable. Once across the river they had to make themselves known to the Allied troops as there was the real threat of being shot.

© Roger Stanton

Source: <http://www.conscript-heroes.com/escapelines/EscapeLines.htm>

BRITISH
PRISONER OF WAR CAMPS
 PUBLISHED BY
THE RED CROSS & ST. JOHN WAR ORGANISATION

Index to Camps

| ITALY   |                  |                      |
|---------|------------------|----------------------|
| Camp    | Location         | Map Square           |
| P. G. 4 | ...              | ...                  |
| 5       | Serravalle       | C 2                  |
| 8       | Benevento        | D 8                  |
| 12      | Candeli          | C 4                  |
| 17      | Rezzanello       | C 2                  |
| 18      | ...              | ...                  |
| 21      | Chieti           | D 6                  |
| 22      | ...              | ...                  |
| 23      | ...              | ...                  |
| 26      | ...              | ...                  |
| 27      | San Romano       | C 4                  |
| 28      | ...              | ...                  |
| 29      | Viano            | D 3                  |
| 32      | ...              | ...                  |
| 35      | Padula           | D 8                  |
| 37      | ...              | ...                  |
| 38      | Poppi            | D 4                  |
| 41      | Montalbo         | C 3                  |
| 42      | ...              | ...                  |
| 50      | ...              | ...                  |
| 51      | ...              | ...                  |
| 52      | Chiavari         | C 3                  |
| 55      | ...              | ...                  |
| 57      | Grupignano       | F 3                  |
| 58      | Castelvetrano    | A 9                  |
| 59      | Servigliano      | D 5                  |
| 60      | ...              | ...                  |
| 62      | ...              | ...                  |
| 63      | ...              | ...                  |
| 65      | Grevina          | E 8                  |
| 66      | Capua            | D 7                  |
| 68      | Vetralla         | C 5                  |
| 70      | ...              | ...                  |
| 71      | Aversa           | D 7                  |
| 73      | ...              | ...                  |
| 75      | Bari             | E 8                  |
| 78      | Sulmona          | D 6                  |
| 80      | ...              | ...                  |
| 82      | ...              | ...                  |
| 83      | ...              | ...                  |
| 85      | Tuturano         | F 9                  |
| 87      | Avellino         | D 8                  |
| 89      | ...              | ...                  |
| 91      | ...              | ...                  |
| 98      | Cairo-Montenotte | B 2                  |
| 102     | Ragusa           | C 9                  |
| 116     | Near Aquila      | D 6                  |
| 122     | ...              | ...                  |
| 201     | Bergamo          | See under Hospitals. |
| 202     | ...              | Location unknown.    |

CIVILIAN INTERNMENT CAMPS

| Camp                 | Map Square |
|----------------------|------------|
| Ariano               | D 7        |
| Civitella del Tronto | D 6        |
| Corropoli            | D 6        |
| Monte Chiarugolo     | C 3        |
| Solofra              | D 8        |
| Terramonti           | D 9        |
| Tremoli              | E 7        |
| Villa Oliveto        | C 4        |
| Villa Selva          | C 4        |
| Villa Spada          | D 5        |

HOSPITALS

| Hospital      | Map Square |
|---------------|------------|
| Arezzo        | D 4        |
| Ascoli-Piceno | D 6        |
| Bari          | E 8        |
| Bridisi       | F 9        |
| Caserta       | D 7        |
| Catanzaro     | D 10       |
| Celle-Ligure  | B 2        |
| Chiavari      | C 3        |
| Chieti        | D 8        |
| Messina       | C 8        |
| Naples        | D 7        |
| Palermo       | A 8        |
| Parma         | C 3        |
| Pergine       | C 4        |
| Udine         | F 3        |
| PG 201        | D 2        |
| PG 202        | C 3        |

Note: The public are reminded that when communicating or sending parcels to Prisoners of War, the geographical location must not be added. The Camp number and P.M. number only should be used.

| Camp | Location | Notes         |
|------|----------|---------------|
|      |          | German |

Dulag 226

Dulag 339 Mantua

Stalag 339 Trieste

Italian

|         |   |   |
|---------|---|---|
| P.G. 5  | Gavi-SerravalleScrivia                    | Piedmont . Some 20 miles north of Genoa   |
| P.G. 10 | Acquapendente   | Viterbo   |
| P.G. 12 | Candeli /Vincigliata                      | 13th century castle near Florence . Several British Generals were imprisoned here.  |
| P.G. 17 | Rezzanello  | Near Turin , Piacenza   |
| P.G. 19 | Bologna   |   |
| P.G. 21 | Chieti  | Old convent; Officers Camp. After the Armistice, anybody wishing to leave the camp was forcibly prevented from doing so under the orders of the senior British officer who was following to the letter the orders of Allied HQ to remain in the camp and await the arrival of Allied forces. Consequently the Germans were able to capture them all. They were subsequently transferred to PG78 just outside Sulmona and thence to camps in Germany where they remained until the end of the war. |
| P.G. 23 | Vestone nearBrescia                       |   |
| P.G. 26 | Cortemaggiore   | Piacenza  |
| P.G. 27 | San Romano  | Pisa  |
| P.G. 29 | Veano   | Lombardy , near Piacenza  |
| P.G. 32 | Bogliaco Gardalake near Salò ,Brescia |   |
| P.G. 35 | Certosa diPadula                          | Monastery, near Salerno   |
| P.G. 38 | Poppi   | Monastery near Arezzo   |
| P.G. 41 | Montalbo  |   |
| P.G. 43 | Garessio  | Cuneo   |
| P.G. 47 | Modena  | Officers, mainly from New Zealand   |
| P.G. 49 | Fontanellato  | Orphanage near Parma . Reggio Emilia .  |
| P.G. 50 | Caserna GenovaCavalleria -storage centre -                            | Rome  |
| P.G. 51 | AltamuraVilla Serena                                      | Bari - Transit camp   |
| P.G. 52 | Pian di Coreglia- Lucca                   | Uscany  |
| P.G. 53 | Sforzacosta   | Liguria . Over 10,000 prisoners -http://www.riggwelter.co.uk/RogerCollinson.html#F  |
| P.G. 54 | Passo Corese,Fara in Sabina                               | 35 km from Rome   |
| P.G. 55 | Busseto   | Near Piacenza . 4 satellite labour camps.   |
| P.G. 57 | Gruppignano   | Near Udine . Mostly Australian and New Zealand other ranks.   |
| P.G. 59 | Servigliano   | Ascoli Piceno - http://www.casadellamemoria.org/   |

|                 |  |                           |   |
|-----------------|--|---------------------------|---|
| P.G. 60         | Colle Compito          | Lucca     |   |
| P.G. 62         | Grumello del Piano     |                           | Near Bergamo . Mostly Indians and Cypriots. Seven satellite work camps, including Gamba , Cremona and Torbole |
| P.G. 63         | MarinaroAversa     |                           | Near Arezzo . Mostly Indians.   |
| P.G. 65         | Gravina-Altamura       | Bari      |   |
| P.G. 66         | Capua                  |                           | Transit camp - http://www.riggwelter.co.uk/RogerCollinson.html#C  |
| P.G. 68         | Vetralla               |                           |   |
| P.G. 70         | Monteurano             |                           | Near Fermo Ascoli Piceno  |
| P.G. 71         | Aversa                 |                           | Near Naples   |
| P.G. 73         | Fossoli of Carpi       |                           | Near Modena   |
| P.G. 75         |  |                           |   |
| TorreTresca | Bari                   |                           | Transit camp. One work camp.  |
| P.G. 77         | Pissignano / Campello? |                           | Tent camp - FolignoFonte d'amore - including senior officers. This camp remains intact <sup>[1]</sup> .                               |
| P.G. 78         | Sulmona                |                           |   |
|                 |  | L'Aquila                  |   |
| P.G. 78/1       | Aquafredda             |                           | Work camp Many New Zealanders.  |
| P.G. 80         | Villa Marina           |                           | Near Rome   |
| P.G. 82         | Laterina               |                           | Near Arezzo . 8,000 prisoners. 50% escaped. (2.720 from secret Italia armi document SMRE Stato Maggiore dell'Esercito Italiano)                               |
| P.G. 83         | Fiume                  |                           |   |
| P.G. 85         | Tuturano               |                           | Transit camp -http://www.tuturano.com/modules.php?name=Il_Campo_PG85                                 |
| P.G. 87         | Stalia                 |                           | 6000 in camp  |
| P.G. 91         | Avezzano               |                           |   |
| P.G. 98         | San Giuseppe Jato      | Sicily    |   |
| P.G. 102        | Near Aquila            |                           | Transit camp  |
| P.G. 103        | Monigo                 | Treviso   |   |
| P.G.103/6   | Ampezzo                |                           |   |
| P.G.103/7   | La Maina               |                           |   |
| P.G. 106        | Vercelli               |                           | 25 work camps, mostly Australians and New Zealanders  |
| P.G.106/20  | Arro                   | Salussola |   |
| P.G. 107        | Torviscosa             |                           | Udine - Five work camps, including Prati, San Donà di Piave, Torre di Confine, La Salute. Mostly New Zealanders and South Africans                            |
| P.G.107/2   | Prati                  |                           |   |
| P.G.107/4   | San Donà di Piave      |                           |   |
| P.G.107/5   | Torre do Confine       |                           |   |
| P.G.            | ?                                      |                           |   |

- 107/6
- P.G. La Salute di
107/7 Livenza
- P.G. 110 Carbonia
- P.G. 112 Turin
- P.G. 113 Avio Near Marsciano, Rovereto
- P.G. 115 Marciano Near Perugia
- P.G. 118 Prato all'Isarco Near Bolzano
- P.G. 120 Chiesanuova Padova - work camps at Fattoria Bianco, Cetona, Abano, Fogolana.
- P.G. 120/4 ?
- P.G. 120/5 Abano
- P.G. 120/8 Fogolana
- P.G. 122 Cinecittà Near Rome - several work camps
- P.G. 127 Locano Aosta
Canavese
- P.G. 129 Montelupone Macerata
- P.G. 132 Foggia
- P.G. 133 Novara
- P.G. 136 Bologna
- C.A.R.E.
- P.G. 145 Campotosto /
Montorio al
Vomano
- P.G. 146 Mortara Pavia
Near Verona. Labour camp for 250 prisoners, mostly New Zealanders, but also English, Scottish, Egyptians, South Africans, Americans, Indians. 14 satellite work camps at Isola della Scala, Lazise, Mozzecane, Vigasio at San Bernardino, Montecchia di Crosara in the Cava Basalti stone farm, Legnago/Vangadizza at Rosta, Zevio at Villa da Lisca, San Martino Buon Albergo, Bonavigo, Oppeano in the Mazzantica Village, Mozzecane near the church, Angiari. Closed following the mass outbreak of prisoners in the days after the Italian Armistice was announced on 8 September 1943.
- See relevant Italian website of movie director Mauro Vittorio Quattrina
- P.G. 201 Bergamo hospital in an almshouse
- P.G. 202 Lucca hospital in a monastery in Bergamo district.
- P.G. 203 Bologna hospital in Castel S Pietro
- P.G. 204 Altamura hospital in a school
- P.G. 206? Teramo hospital
- P.G. 206 Nocera hospital near Rovello
- P.G. 207 Milan hospital
- P.G. 339 Pisa
- P.G. 339 Pisa
- P.G. 454 Brindisi Mainly Indians

An English prisoner of war camp existed near Caoria - Canal San Bovo (Trento). It was closed on 8 September 1943.